

Dr. Lauren Vocke, Physician at the McLaren Greater Lansing Family Medicine Clinic, became involved with the Women's Giving Circle through coworkers and by introductions at the employee health fair. She likes that the group is composed of a variety of women who each bring unique ideas and contributions for the greater good. Dr. Vocke said, "I am thankful for the friendships that have formed. I also enjoy learning something new at every event." She added, "It's an incredible group of women with shared values who are committed to making a difference. Being part of something so positive, impactful, and community-focused is both rewarding and fun!"
